

howcase their talent.
nity is rich with culture and
that the Jewish Film Fest
periences and heritage cap-
he says. "We recognize in ada creative exchange, film fests
he economic health of our loy."

—Anna Thibodeaux

Jan. 20—A Jumpin' Night in the Garden of Eden, 2 p.m., at the Manship Theatre. The New Orleans Panorama Jazz Band will perform after the film. At 7 p.m., Varian's War will air as the final presentation.

Industry Development, says the festivals also provide a great opportunity for filmmakers to sh

"Our community is rich with culture and we are excited that the Jewish Film Fest showcases experiences and heritage captured on film," he says. "We recognize in addition to being a creative exchange, film fests contribute to the economic health of our local community."

—Anna Thibodeaux

Jan. 19—The Tribe and Blues By The Beach, 7 p.m., at the Manship Theatre. Blues filmmaker Jack Baxter will speak following the double feature.

Jan. 20—A Jumpin' Night in the Garden of Eden, 2 p.m., at the Manship Theatre. The New Orleans Panorama Jazz Band will perform after the film. At 7 p.m., Varian's War will air as the final presentation.

For more information, visit brjff.com.

$1.23 million — Sale price for the 3.77-acre lot on Siegen Lane near Perkins Road on which the Word of Faith Christian Center is located. The church plans to build a 400-seat sanctuary.

$1.7
ager
buil
Mar
plan
mov