

Advocate - 2/1/07

Photo provided by DACI SPIELBERGER

Jewish Film Festival patrons party

Visiting at the patrons party for Baton Rouge's first Jewish Film Festival are, from left, patrons Gus and Michelle Levy and Kate and Erich Sternberg.

Party honors film festival sponsors

Sponsors of Baton Rouge's first Jewish Film Festival

were honored at a patron party preceding the festival selections on Jan. 27 in the Black-box Studio at the Manship Theater in the Shaw Center.

Sponsors were Lee Michaels Fine Jewelry, Entergy and Starmount Insurance. Some 125 guests attended including many generous patrons from Baton Rouge's Jewish community. A Mediterranean buffet complemented the evening's film selections, "West Bank Story" and the Israeli drama, "All I've Got."

Assisting at the event were festival committee members Scott Berg, Martha Bergadine, Lisa Binder, Melanie Fields, Francine Fisher, Wendy Herschman, Adrian Hirsch, Julie Hoffman, Paula and Harvey Hoffman, Sheila Horowitz, Seth Kaplan, Robert Krupkin, Sherry Mayer, Beth Morrison and Mary Ann Sternberg.

The festival was presented by the Jewish Federation and Jewish Cinema South Jan. 25-28 at the Shaw Center.